A wide variety of beverage preparation machines are currently available. Such machines can typically be divided into two (2) distinct categories. In the first category are preparation machines which primarily prepare the beverage ingredient. U.S. Pat. Nos. 5,439,344; 5,135,332 and 4,805,644 are examples of such machines. In the second category are machines which primarily prepare the beverage for consumption. U.S. Pat. Nos. 4,855,955; 4,629,373; 4,769,794; and 4,873,724 are examples of such machines. It is sometimes desirable to prepare a beverage with flavors which can be directly associated with a particular individual or group of individuals. An ice cream vendor, for example, may find it desirable to offer a float to a customer with flavors which can be associated with the customer. The same vendor might also offer a customer "chocolate-chip float" or "Strawberry shortcake float". It might be preferred, however, to provide such a customer with a fresh, authentic flavoring. The present invention provides such flavored beverages in a form which can be prepared and dispensed with a high degree of accuracy. iPad photography news, tips, tricks, and more iPhone Vs. iPad Camera Comparison Hello and welcome to iPhone Camera Comparison.
